International High Pressure Biology Group

Co-Presidents

S. Daniels (U.K), Y. Grossman (Israel)

Scientific Board

J.H. Abraini, (France), D.H Bartlett, (U.S.A.), P.B. Bennett, (U.S.A.), L. Buravkova, (Russia), I.T. Demchenko, (Russia), J. Kornblatt, (Canada), H. Mano, (Japan), R.E. Marquis, (U.S.A.), J.J. Risso, (France), J.C. Rostain, (France), J.C. Sarron, (France), S. Thom, (U.S.A), A.M. Zimmerman, (Canada)

The International High Pressure Biology Group (IHPBG) was formed in June 1988 during the meeting entitled “High Pressure Nervous Syndrome 20 Years Later” held in Gosier, Guadeloupe (West French Indies). The main goal of this group is to bring together scientists from the various subdivisions of high pressure biology in order to share information, procedures and perspectives in a very extensive field including basic disciplines such as marine ecology and molecular biology, as well as more applied topics like hyperbaric medicine and food science. This interdisciplinary approach derived from an earlier meeting in 1986 in Toronto, Canada, at which an effort was made to facilitate communication between those studying the effects of high pressure on molecules and those studying its effects on whole organisms and organ systems.

Following the inaugural meeting the following meetings have taken place:

IInd IHPBG meeting Toulon (France) in August 1990

IIIrd IHPBG meeting Duke University (USA) in June 1992

IVth IHPBG meeting Tamaris (France) in June 1995 (jointly with the ESCPB)

Vth IHPBG meeting St. Petersburg (Russia) in July 1997

VIth IHPBG meeting Boston (USA) in June 1999 (jointly with UHMS)

VIIth IHPBG meeting Monaco in September 2001

VIIIth IHPBG meeting Moscow (Russia) in June 2003

IXth IHPBG meeting Barcelona (Spain) in September 2005 (jointly with EUBS)

Xth IHPBG meeting Sharm el Sheikh (Egypt) in September 2007 (jointly with EUBS)

The founding co-presidents of the Group were Dr. J.C. Rostain from Marseille (France) and Dr. A. M. Zimmerman from Toronto (Canada). Dr. R.E. Marquis from Rochester (New-York, U.S.A.) and Dr. A.G. MacDonald, Aberdeen (U.K.) were elected in 1992. Dr. P.B. Bennett from Duke University (Durham, U.S.A.) was elected in 1995 and Dr. J.J. Risso from Toulon (France) was elected as co-president in 1999. The current co-presidents Dr. S. Daniels from Cardiff University (U.K.) and Dr. Y. Grossman from Ben Gurion University of the Negev (Israel) were elected in 2005.

The International High Pressure Biology Group counts more than 250 members from 20 different countries all over the world.

IHPBG MEETING, Brest 2009

MAIN TOPICS

Effects of Pressure at Cellular and Molecular Levels

Effects of Pressure and Inert Gases on Physiological System and Whole Organisms

Basic Mechanisms of Hyperbaric Oxygen and Hyperoxia

INSTRUCTIONS FOR SUBMISSION OF ABSTRACTS

DEADLINE: Title and abstract must be sent before May 31, 2009

email to: Philippe.sebert@univ-brest.fr

Refer to " IHPBG ABSTRACT" on subject line

ABSTRACT FORMATTING GUIDELINES

- Title Capitalize all words
- Author(s) List primary author first. List all names last name first with up to 2 initials with no spaces
- Presenter(s) Ensure that the following information for the presenting author(s) is included in the submission:
1. Complete mailing address
 2. Telephone with area code
 3. Fax number with area code
 4. E-Mail address, most important for future communication.
- Affiliation(s) Provide the primary lab affiliation name, city, state and zip code. If several sites were used for data collection, authors with a mutual affiliation can be listed first, followed by the mutual affiliation.

Abstract Body Format-

- Must be 300 words or less, exclusive of title, author(s) names, and institutional affiliation(s).
- All submissions should be in Microsoft Word format (DOC)
